

Thea Classic Award Madame Tussauds London

Marie Tussaud brought her collection of wax figures to England in 1802. She became a success through a combination of entrepreneurial flair, hard work, determination and creative genius. 'Madam Tussauds' was established at its present site in London in 1884 and has remained the most famous tourist attraction in the UK ever since. Now a world wide brand, the status of Madame Tussauds today is testament to a truth that Marie Tussaud understood and harnessed from the outset: the appeal of glamour and gore is universal and enduring. What has always set Madame Tussauds apart is the continuous development of a dynamic and innovative guest experience delivered with consummate skill and dedication; and that is due to the contribution of the many thousands of people who have been involved in the creation and operation of this unique and extraordinary attraction.

Today, there are several hundred people who deserve recognition for their present role both in upholding the proud tradition and values of Madame Tussauds and in extending its appeal to a new generation of guests. They are all worthy recipients of this award:
